BUSINESS IN MIDDLESBORO
REPORTED GOOD

Number of Houses Say They are Selling More Goods Than Ever With Business Far From Dull

ONLY THOSE DIRECTLY DEPENDENT ON COAL COMPLAIN

That conditions are not, by any means, as bad as they might be and that business in this section is nothing to grieve about is shown in a survey of a number of the representative wholesale houses and factories in Middlesboro made today. Several of these houses declared that their business was the best they had ever known and only one of two complained of dull times.

Big Ben Overall factory reported that they were doing the best business in producing the most overalls that they had ever had in their line. This factory employs 300 persons; and all of them are working steadily. Martin Page Co., manufacturers of overalls, reported a very good business with sales the past month increasing rapidly.

The three lumber companies were equally optimistic although all of them agreed that business was slackening up now because of the oncoming winter. Allen Lumber Co., said that they had had the best trade during the past few months their business had ever known. City Lumber and Supply Co., established this past year, announced a business far exceeding their expectations. Bell County Lumber and Coal Co., reported remarkable sales since the beginning of the fall building season.

Kentucky Mine and Supply Co. admitted to dull business because their sales depend almost entirely on the mining companies and when coal is being produced as irregularly as it is now, in this section, their sales are naturally slack.

The grocery and produce wholesale houses all report splendid business. R. T. Mackey Co. announced that they were doing the best business they had done in a number of years, that the demand for groceries is true and that they expect it to continue throughout the year. Jellison Grocery Co. also reported good business and though they marked no noticeable change in the past few months they said they were selling more goods than a year ago. Lovett's reported that their sales, too, were better than last year and that they were doing absolutely a capacity business. W. H. Strange Co. also reported good business in all lines, asserting that of late years by a great way.

The retail wholesale houses, Raleigh and Co. and Warren P. Nash, report business particularly good at this season, the busiest of the year for them. Sales, they say, have been good all fall and there is not very much slackening, even in the coal camps where the mines are not running.

Moore-Rogan Wholesale Dry Goods Co. said their business was good but that it was nothing out of the ordinary and that they had noted rather a diminution in sales during the season.

POLICE COURT NEWS

D. M. Bingham, charged with having liquor in his possession, drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was fined $109.25 and sentenced to thirty days in jail and will be required to make a $1000 peace bond for the former offense and fined $14.25 for the latter. J. McAffrey, charged with being intoxicated, was fined $14.25. Louie Dean, charged with operating a vehicle while intoxicated, was fined $14.25. Sherman Ramsey, charged with drunkenness and breach of the peace, was fined $14.25. George Colgan, charged with trespassing by taking coal from a car, was fined $14.25.

FOUR ESCAPE HURT AS CAR HITS AUTO

J. L. Sanders of Crystal and Local Men Injured but Automobile Demolished

J. L. Sanders general manager of the Crystal Coal company and four traveling men miraculously escaped serious injury or death when the automobile of which they were occupants were struck by a local car on the tracks at Logmont, near the Crystal mine, yesterday. Though the automobile was badly demolished, the five passengers were unhurt.

According to the reports, a mine employ was running a railroad car, about half filled with coal, under the mine tipples. Mr. Sanders was backing his car into the garage and was unable to run it off the tracks. The man on the railroad car was also unable to stop it by the brakes. It crashed into the automobile, carrying it over fifty feet until a wheel lodged between the cross ties stopped the coal car. Other occupants of the wrecked car were: H. C. Moore and John Hask of Middlesboro, Mr. Band and Mr. Call.

MEET LAST NIGHT FOR BASKETBALL

Each Church Represented—Schedule Will Be Worked Out for Times of Games

A meeting representatives from the churches interested in the Inter-Church Basketball League was held last night in Supt. J. W. Bradner's office. Although the meeting was hastily called, it was well-attended, all the churches being represented as follows: Christian, Supt. Bradner, Rev. A. B. Reeves and Jim Lee; Baptist, Dan Wester and Lewis Hollingsworth; Presbyterian, Warren Nash and Horace Lewis; M. E. Church, South, John Boyman and Deral Biggs; First M. E. Church, Rev. W. B. Archer.

Supt. Bradner explained that the churches might not be allowed to use the high school gymnasium as so many high school and inter-class games, both for boys and girls, had been planned, and the school would necessarily be given a preference. However, he said he and Coach Kilpatrick would work out a schedule whereby the churches might play in the gymnasium if not practice there. As soon as they determine the schedule another meeting will be called when officers will be elected and rules formulated. It was suggested, though, that the churches go on and organize their teams so that they might be ready when the schedule is announced.

DR. CORN OF PINEVILLE HEADS DENTAL SOCIETY

Dr. J. B. Corn, of Pineville, was elected president of the Southeastern Kentucky Dental Society at the meeting at the Pineville hotel Saturday night. Other officers elected were: Dr. Charles Marshall, of Harlan, vice-president and Dr. Shultz Gibson, of Middlesboro, secretary-treasurer.

Seventeen members of the organization were present. The program began with a paper by Dr. H. E. Motch, of Middlesboro, on "Local Infection." Dr. Frank Hower, of Louisville, gave a clinic on "Nerve Blocking" and Dr. J. H. Jotz, of Louisville, gave a clinic on partial plates.

It was decided by the association that papers on various phases of oral hygiene, written by the members, would be published in the papers of this section in order that the public may be educated in the care of the teeth.

WINDOW SYSTEM BAKERY
MAY BE LOCATED HERE

Tentative plans for the establishment of a window system bakery are being made by a Pittsburg, Pa., firm here. A representative of the firm which operates a chain of such bakeries has been in town during the past few days seeking a location but, according to the reports, no definite place has been decided upon.

The member of the firm went to Knoxville yesterday and is expected to return soon to further consider the business advantages of locating here and to find a suitable building for the bakery.

The Weather

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—For Kentucky, rain and colder tonight; Wednesday, mostly cloudy and colder.

Wham! Bam! Zip!

STRANGERS USE OLD BARREL AS STILL IN ABANDONED MINE NEAR PINEVILLE

PINEVILLE, Dec. 4.—Deputy Jim Stewart in charge of the raising of moonshine stills in this section, tells a very interesting story of a raid made recently in an abandoned mine. The name of the mine is withheld from publication as the proper witnesses have not yet been summoned.

The hearing before Magistrate Creech here brought out the fact that one of the watchmen of the mine had much to say in regard to it. The watchman stated that two friends of his had left an old metal barrel near the mine, and that not long ago he decided that they might be able to put it to some use. They returned to the spot where they had left it and discovered it gone.

The watchman, according to his statements, had been suspicious of several men who had been seen around the mine, and had suspected something sinister. The two men went into the mine and found the place permeated by a burnt odor they came out. Later in the day they returned and after going through several of the abandoned mines.

1924 AUTOMOBILE LICENSES FOR BELL COUNTY ARRIVE

PINEVILLE, KY., Dec. 30.—Automobile license tags have been received here and all owners of cars are requested to get theirs at once. Henry Broughton, county clerk explained that the state and county had been rechecked and that in addition of 2,200 licenses had been allowed this county. Last year 1,800 were allowed this year 4,000. The numbers range from 15,001 to 17,000 and are white numbers with blue background. Tennessee's numbers have a hyphen between the thousands and the hundreds. There are 1,700 in stock at the county clerk's office awaiting distribution.

CANADA PEAK OIL CO.
STARTS DRILLING TODAY

Drilling for oil began by the Canada Peak oil company at their location north of Middlesboro today, according to an official of the firm. It is expected that the first sand will be reached at a depth of about 400 feet and others will be reached at greater depths. Machinery capable of digging 200 feet or more is being used.

And Ten It Was!

LONDON.—It had the outward appearance of whiskey. And it was in whiskey bottles. But it tasted like bad. And it was ten. So the head cellarman of a West End hotel is in jail facing an embezzlement charge.

ARISTOCRACY

Introducing "Red Shadow," 7-year-old pussy cat entered in the annual New York cat show. He's a remarkable specimen, and has won many prizes.

MERCHANTS WILL DISCUSS BUSINESS

Variety of Matters of Interest to be Taken Up at Meeting Thursday Night

Local business conditions and means to attract out of town customers to Middlesboro will be discussed at a meeting of the Middlesboro Merchant's Association at the Elks Home at 7:30 Thursday night.

Another matter that will claim the attention of the members is that of having a luncheon meeting once each month, presided over by a different member each time.

A credit rating book is being compiled from names recently turned in and from the old book. It will be of the loose-leaf type and mimeographed. Members are being urged by the executives of the organization to do everything possible toward keeping the East End thoroughly passable for the Christmas trade.

Bulletins have been sent to all members of the association urging their cooperation for better business conditions here by bringing out of town customers to Middlesboro, to bring new money into this, the logical trade center of this section.

IGNORES BLACKHAND LETTER, SHOT DEAD

Brooklyn Man Laughed at Demand for Money Three Weeks Ago—Slayers Leave Tools

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Dominick Maggio who laughed three weeks ago when he received a letter signed with a smug blackhand and demanding money for his life was shot dead early today in his Brooklyn home after his wife, three children and himself had been photographed. Gas masks, an empty choloform bottle, the murder gun and two empty cartridges were left by the slayers beside the victim's bed.

OFFICERS FIND JAR WHISKEY AT BLUE GOOSE RESTAURANT

Police officers staged another raid on the Blue Goose restaurant at noon today and found a half-gallon jar nearly filled with whiskey in a building at the rear of the restaurant. R. W. Fendren, proprietor, was arrested and placed in jail.

Officers state that the doors of the restaurant were locked when they arrived there and that some one was pouring something from a jar into the sink.

Fendren's trial for the alleged sale of whiskey several days ago, was scheduled to take place late this afternoon.

English Beauties

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Guard your laurels, American beauties, the British laurels are coming! Andre Charlot, the Flo Ziegfeld of London, has chosen two dozen of the loveliest of 1000 pretty maidens.

With his beaming exhibits A to Z he will storm New York on New Year's Eve.

Half of his unusually trained chorus will be composed of blondes.

All will be pretty of face, graceful of figure, supple in dancing, harmonious in voice, a defiant threat to the dazzling dainties of the American choruses.

Charlot recently returned from an inspection tour of the United States. He carefully indexed the beauty of the land.

Although he does not say so, it is evident that he is confident the striking woman he has chosen to represent England in the battle of beauty, will emerge successful after a tilt with the American types.

Nine hundred and seventy-six girls, considered charming to the untrained eye, were rejected by Charlot for some slight affliction, such as:

Thick ankles.
Bad teeth.
Faded appearance.
Lack of expression.
Singing out of tune.
Stiff movements.
The most typical, best looking, cleverest dancing, tuneful singing chorus ever exported from London, according to critics, is guaranteed six weeks work, first-class passage both ways across the ocean—and 50 a week.

Thus is the hominid for grace and charm.

The favorite stories of Elizabeth Barrett Browning in childhood were Greek stories.

DEADLOCK IN HOUSE AFTER
SIXTH BALLOT

Insurgent Blue Ties Hands of Congress by Refusing to Support Gillette—Senate Can Do Nothing Now

HOLD BRIEF MEETING NO ATTEMPT BUSINESS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Another ballot for the speaker of the House today failed to break the deadlock, no candidate receiving the majority necessary for election. After six ballots were taken there was still no election. The insurgent bloc has tied the hands of the new Congress by refusing support of Gillette for reelection. Meantime the Senate, whose leaders maintain it can only meet and adjourn until the House has perfected a speaker.

H. H. ASHER FAMILY NARROWLY ESCAPE INJURY

PINEVILLE, Dec. 4.—H. H. Asher, his wife and little daughter narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when Mr. Asher lost control of his car and crashed into a corn crib at the side of the road, near Walsota. Mr. Asher's attention was attracted by his daughter and for a moment he lost control of the car. The car was sufficient, however, to crash into the crib. The car, a heavy Studebaker sedan, was mangled at the front. The crib, according to reports, was moved ten inches from its former position. No one was hurt.

START DRILLING DEEP OIL WELL IN HARLAN

HARLAN, KY., Dec. 3.—An oil well the capable of drilling to a depth of 3,000 feet has been put in operation at Cawood, 8 miles south of here by Alex. Carpenter and his already reached the 240-foot level. The hole will be drilled 9,000 feet deep if necessary. Geologists have gone over the section and say the structure is strongly indicative of both oil and gas. Borings to test coal seams have shown gas in Harlan county.

MARTHA MANSFIELD DIES OF BURNS RECEIVED THURSDAY

Martina Mansfield, popular film actress who plays one of the leading roles tonight in "Is My Everything," at the Manning Theater, died Friday in San Antonio, Texas, as a result of burns while on location here Thursday afternoon. Miss Mansfield received the burns when a flammable dress she was wearing became ignited, enveloping the lower portion of her body in flames.

Two Enlist in Army

Claude Johnson, of Harlan, Va., applied for enlistment here yesterday and will be sent to the Philippines as soon as papers of acceptance arrive from headquarters. Herschel Smith, of Harlan, enlisted Saturday and has been accepted. He will accompany Johnson to the Philippines if accepted.

They Dance by Candle Now

CAPE TOWN.—South Africans are trying off the "Blues" by candle. Instructions are coming from a London dancing teacher in brief messages. The "Blues," a new dance in London, is a variation of the fox trot.

Too Much Tipping

Vienas.—Excessive tipping is driving tourists away from here. Dr. Siegmund Munz, international writer on economics, blames the three water system wherein food, drinks and the bills are brought to each patron by a separate waiter. And Dr. Munz also charges hotels are charging exorbitant prices.

Home-Made Things—

Those who wish to remember friends this Christmas with dainty hand-made things, but who haven't the time or talent to embroider, crochet, etc., can find through the Want Ads some one to do this for them.

Many people who have special talent — embroidering, initials, making delicious fruit cakes, etc. — are at this season advertising their services. If the party you wish to reach is not advertising, place a want ad yourself telling the kind of services you need.

A THOUGHT

Come unto me, all ye that labor and rest.—Matt. 11:28.

Weariness can smother upon the soul,
when resty slough finds the down pillow

BUSINESS SURVEY
IS ENCOURAGING

The survey of business in this section printed in the Daily News today is indeed encouraging to residents here who have been long-faced by the rumors of hard times. To learn that a number of business concerns here are doing more business than they ever have certainly does not bespeak hard times and as long as reports continue like these there need be no uneasiness in regard to the economic future of Middlesboro.

There is no denying, of course, that conditions in the coal industry are dull, indeed at a standstill in a number of camps. Only those mines that produce coal for their company's own consumption in some other industry, or those that have contracts for their coal the year around, are running with regularity now. Not is there any shortage of cars, as there was last year. It is just that the demand is so far behind the supply.

What this business review really shows, then, is that Middlesboro has outgrown the place where it is entirely dependent upon the coal industry for its living. Here are our wholesale merchants doing a thriving trade,
"the greatest ever" or "the best in years." This is because they are spreading out, taking in the rural sections from which we should draw the major portion of our trade.

This represents the first step in the development of a city. No place can grow in a healthy way as long as it is dependent on one business and that a vacillating one. Only when we have a diversity of interests, not one, nor two, nor three, but a score or more, can we really be independent of shifting circumstances and establish ourselves as a thriving city in every sense of the word.

VISIT THE S.S.
SCHOOLS

There is probably not an element in our community life that is more vital than our public schools. Yet how much interest does the average parent show in the institution that is helping to shape the destinies of his children?
Of course, those of us who have children in school manifest a sort of restricted interest, but it stops with the immediate concern of our own children.

Outside of personality and professional qualification, our teachers get their greatest strength from our cooperation and encouragement. Many a rough place could be made smooth by a friendly visit and a word of appreciation.

The pupils themselves need the consciousness of our interest. There is no better way to convince them of our interest than to visit them at their chapel exercises. One of the principal ingredients in our recipe of perpetual youth is our regular visits to the High School.

There isn't a business man in town who would not be made better by attending chapel exercises at the High School at least once a month. The contact with youth, catching some of the enthusiasm and being interested in the things youth is interested in, will ward off the burden of years and lend a youthful spirit to one who is no longer youthful.

It tempted sometimes to criticize a teacher just imagine for yourself the task of discipline and training for a group of fifty or more just as bad as your one or two. If you are satisfied with the success you have made in the management of your own, the teacher needs the benefit of your wisdom, not your criticism.

Thank it over, and visit the school.

THE OPEN FORUM

MRS. ARNOLD URGES PRESER-VATION OF NATIVE RELICS

The attention of our readers is called today to an interesting item under the Open Forum. It is headed "Preserving our Relics," and is written by Mrs. T. H. Arnold, the city's librarian. She is urging that in no way should the relics of the Indian Civil War, or any thing else relating to the early history of this section be preserved in the Cathedral Library here. The argument is a worthy one.

PRESERVING OUR RELICS

Editor Daily News:
The meeting of the Kentucky Labrary Association at Covington not only afforded its members a pleasant vacation, but the interchange of ideas was particularly beneficial. It is always helpful to see how others do the work we ourselves are trying to do.
One idea that was expressed upon me was that the "cat" is an only a place where the people may find books of a kind that is of recreation and books of a kind that are of their highest utility. It is not a place of general information for and about the community and its life. Its present and future is the future.

The library at Covington has historical relics and treasures of the past.
The thought arose in my mind: "Why not something similar in connection with our library here?" The region surrounding Middlesboro is rich in such relics, traces of the Indians, such as flint heads for arrows, tomahawks, and pipes of stone. Civil War memorials, many of which have been unearthed and sold for a trifle.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, professor of zoology in the University of Kentucky delivered an address to the association, in which he stressed the importance of preserving, with the utmost care all relics of the past as they will be priceless to the future generations.
Unfortunately, he said, discoveries are often made by persons who attach no importance to them. He instanced a case recurring in the Blue Grass section. A young boy brought to his office a skull he and his playmates had found in a cave. The facial portion of the skull was perfect but the back part had been crushed in. The professor asked the boy if the skull was crushed when found and he was told it was perfect when found but his boys had thought it would be a good thing to hold poker chips, so they broke the hinder part away for this purpose.

Why can't Middlesboro do as well as Covington in the preservation of relics that later will be priceless?
There is scarcely a house but has some

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Humpty Dumpty," said the Riddle Lady, "you must not get offended at my new riddle."

"Humpty Dumpty," said the Riddle Lady, "you must not get offended at my new riddle. It isn't about you at all. It just sounds as though it was.
It's called Humpty Dumpty, and the answer is not an egg. It's something entirely different and cannot be eaten.
Is everybody ready?"
"Yes!" shouted all the Riddle Land people, for everyone was anxious to see who would guess the riddle and get the prize today. The twins decided not to guess too hard, for already since coming to Riddle Land, they had guessed most of the answers.

"Well, then here it is," smiled the Riddle Lady. "Put on your thinking caps!"
Humpty Dumpty's got in the air
Sometimes thin, but often thick, Sometimes he's round, sometimes he's square,
He's built of stone and trimmed with brick.

"Humpty Dumpty's head is hot,"
Perhaps it's fever, but I think not,
Summer's heat nor winter's chill,
Never caused Humpty a doctor bill.

Relics, often children are found playing with perfect examples of arrow heads, Indian pipes or tomahawks. If possessors of any of these relics will bring them to the library room will be found for them, they will be indexed, and the name and home of the finder and contributor will be affixed on a card. It will be possible to make an exposition of it that would prove valuable.

I shall be glad to meet and talk with those possessing relics which they may be willing to donate or lend the library.
Let us not wait too long. Relics of incalculable interest and surpassing value to zoologists and archaeologists are being lost because of lack of interest by the finders. There were mountain builders here before the Indians and both have left traces of their residence. Civil War relics may be found now, but the day is not far distant when they will be more highly esteemed.

Visitors from northern states more interested in these relics of the past than those who live in the vicinity and whose ancestors fought to win the country from the Red men and later under the Stars and Stripes and Bars.

I ask that you do not delay but come forward with your contributions of past relics and mementoes. Your generosity and helpfulness will be appreciated by all who visit the library.

CHRISTMAS SEAL

Why has everyone been asked at each Christmas season for the last sixteen years to buy Christmas seals?
Because everyone wants to see in Humpty Dumpty likes to smoke.

Keeps it up till you'd think he'd choke
Wiz-Wags messages to the stars.
Sends up news to the toll on Mars.

"Humpty Dumpty's mouth's so wide,
That birds and swallows can get inside,
And Santa Claus so round and fat,
Has no more trouble than this Jack Sparrow."

He slides right down with his bag of toys,
And Humpty laughs but makes no noise.

An holds his breath till Santa's gone,
In his little sleigh by reindeer drawn.

"What is it?"
"I know! I know! We know!"
cried everybody at once.

"My, my! I must have made it too easy," laughed the Riddle Lady.

And now, my dears, I'm not going to tell you what the Riddle Lady said the answer was. As it is such an easy riddle, perhaps you can guess it for yourselves. But let me whisper this:
It begins with th—

tycens, "stamped" out for it is still the greatest enemy of health, and thereby to happiness and prosperity.
No one is protected from it! It attacks the strong as well as the weak.
Today it may be a mother in a crowded tenement—tomorrow a father of a happy family where money is plentiful.

The declining death rate shows that the Christmas Seals are slowly but surely "sealing" the fate of tuberculosis, for the money which comes from their purchases gives each community the means to carry on its home fight.

The more Seals you buy, the sooner the day will come when we may banish this constant fear that you or your dear ones may be forced to make a personal fight against the disease. Can you afford not to help?

Berton Braley's Poem

PERFECTLY CLEAR

If you have seen a glibberlin
Cavorting on the green,
With seven feathers on each fin
And nothing in between:
If you have watched him dance a waltz
With thumbtacks in each shoe,
You're bound to understand his faults
When they're explained to you.

Why does he sit in thorny spots,
And every now and then Proceed to tie himself in knots
He can't untie again?
Why is his form constricted within
A tin can on a shelf?
Because the wild, wild glibberlin
Cannot contain himself.

If you have watched the glibberlin,
You'll very clearly see Why dark green whiskers on his chin
Do not appeal to me.
For dark green whiskers will not bleach.

Except in alcohol:
And thus the glibberlin can teach
A lesson to us all!

If summer were to drop in just to spend a week end, she certainly would be a welcome guest.

Kissing is dangerous. Too much of it will make a man cross-eyed.

BUT HE DIDN'T COLLECT IT

THE BALANCE OF POWER

Tom
Sims
Says

A woman's face is her fortune only when it draws a lot of interest.

Having a sympathetic nature is

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT
TO LESLIE PRESCOTT CON-TINUED

"Let's have our luncheon served in the nursery, Ruth. Nannie has gone out with the baby and it is very surprising and comfortable up there. I'm including in the luxury of a maid, one of Nannie's nieces who is a very willing girl. I think I am going to be more comfortable with her than I would be with a more experienced one.
You know I like to cook if I only had someone to wash the dishes and clean up things.

"When I knew you were coming,
dear, I fixed some of that grated cheese and bacon on bread that you like so much and it is all ready to pop into the oven to brown, and the chocolate is piping hot now. That, of course you know is a well balanced ration and if you don't eat too much of it you won't get over fat."

"Leslie, what are you heating all around the bush with me for, describing your luncheon and talking about eating fat when you know both of us have not gained a pound since we were in school? Indeed, you are thinner since your illness than before."

"Oh, I'm just like all other women, Ruth, when they have something that worries them very much and they are not sure whether it is best to burden their best friend with it or not."

We had reached the nursery by this time. Ruth sat down in a low chair that I kept for myself near the window and I stood near looking down upon her.

"Now begin at the beginning," she said. "Is it money or husband?"

"Why do you ask that, Ruth?"
"Because when a married woman's dooops at the corners and her eyes set a worried look, you can make up your mind that one of three things is harrowing her mind: husband or money or usually, and sometimes the most nerve racking thing of all, a lover.
Of course I know you haven't any lover, dear, consequently it must be husband or money."

"You are all wrong."

"What is it, then?"

"It is a string of pearl beads."

"Not your string of pearl beads?"
You haven't lost them again?"

"No, but listen, Ruth," and then, little Marquise. I told her the whole story and how some man was bounding me to death because he had picked up one of the beads, when the string broke the night she was with me, and found out they were real. How I never had known myself they were real until I had taken them to be restring, and then being in need of money had sold three of them for nine thousand dollars, fifteen hundred of which I had given her. And now I didn't dare tell Jack, for I had begun to suspect that Karl Whitney had given me the pearls, through Alice, and I was afraid that Jack would make me send them back.

Ruth laughed almost hysterically.
"This is a new one on me," she said.
"I've heard of women getting into all sorts of trouble because the pearls that her husband had given her and ever-one thought were real were found to be paste. But I have never before heard of a woman, whose supposedly paste necklace turned out to be real, who was greatly worried about it."

THEY WHO RETURN

They who return from far and foreign shores
Find fond lips waiting them—
But ears unheeding;
There is no one will listen to their tales
Of strange, bright sands,
Swift gales and good ships speeding.

Those whom they left behind are still Intent
Upon the small affairs
Of home—the baking—
The rainy day—and the neighbor's guest—
They listen only for A breath's intaking!

Then they take up again their chattering—
They will not let the rover
Tell his story
Of the far countries that his eyes have seen—
The wonder of strange cities—

And their glory.

Could they who traveled to that last far shore
Whither they go, come back—
In loving and yearning—
Would they find any here to hark
their tales
Would they not go back grieved and Unreturning?

Capt. Busie, Formerly Of Here, To Wed

A romance, beginning at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., last summer, will have a happy culmination on December 9
when Capt. Henley C. Busie, M. D., formerly of Middlesboro will wed Miss Isabel Hoover of Shaukman, Pa.

The wedding will take place at Fort Oglethorpe and will be an imposing military affair.

Miss Hoover and Capt. Busie met at the military post last summer when she was there nursing her uncle, an officer there. Following the wedding

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. George Lynn, of Shaukman. Capt.
Busie is a brother of Charles Busie, of Middlesboro.

Episcopal Church Guild Has Bazaar Tomorrow

The ladies of St. Mary's Episcopal Church will have their annual Christmas bazaar tomorrow in the empty room at the left of the entrance into the Manning Theatre. The goods to be sold will consist of art work, fancy work, needle work of all kinds, possibilities and candies. The goods will be displayed in the window tonight and the sale will start at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Ruff Shells

The clever woman who believes in preparedness should keep puff shells in her emergency cupboard during the holiday season.

These shells are used as cases for desserts, salads or creamed meats.
They can be kept, reheated and crisp-ed for a week or longer.

Creamed shrimps with peas served in a delicious shell is something very different from the same mixture creamed on toast. Creamed chicken, mushrooms and eggs or sweetbreads are quite as satisfactory served in puff shells as in patty shells. And the puff shells are much less trying to make.

This recipe is sufficient for 18 avozaze sized puffs:

One half cup butter, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup flour, 4 eggs.

The water should be boiling when measured. Put water in a perfectly smooth pan and add butter.

When the boiling point is again reached and the flour, which has been sifted all at once. Stir vigorously.

The mixture will soon make a stiff ball, drawing away from the sides of the pan. Remove from the fire and add the eggs, unbroken, one at a time.
Each egg should be thoroughly incorporated in the mixture before another is added. Drop by spoonfuls onto a buttered cookie sheet or inverted dripping pan. Bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

Do not look at the puffs for the first 10 minutes they are in the oven. At the end of 10 minutes the heat should be slightly reduced. If the dough is allowed to cool before the eggs are added the shells will be in layers or flakes. This flakiness is wanted for a creamied entrée.

Care in Baking

Care must be taken in the baking that the shells are well done. If they are not thoroughly baked they will fall.
A safe way to do is to take one from the oven. If it does not fall after two or three minutes the rest may be removed with safety.

Chairs are made from this same mixture. The puffs are shaped in differs four or five inches wide. After baking they are split and filled with boiled custard, then frosted with chocolate maple or vanilla.

The puff shells are split in half when used for salads or creamied en-trées, each half forming a case.

If used as a dessert the shells can be opened at the top of the puff, the filling put into the case and the top put back. A particularly delicious concoction is made by filling a shell with maple molasses, replacing the top and pouring marshmallows sauce with English walnuts over the whole. No cake is served and the dessert is distinctly a surprise.

Rich Filling

Whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with vanilla makes a rich sauce for a filling of ice cream or a cold fruited cream of any sort.

This same mixture can also be used to make tiny cheese puffs to serve with salad. Add two tablespoons grated cheese to the mixture before baking and season with salt and paprika. Drop by the half tea spoonful, spreading flat, on an oiled and floured baking sheet. Bake well in a moderate oven. Sprinkle with grated cheese and melt in a hot oven before serving.

They puffs are made and filled with any rich, highly seasoned sandwich filling for the afternoon tea table. Drop from a teaspoon, but do not flatten.

Baby Phonograph

The baby phonograph is the latest thing in musical instruments. It stands about two feet in height and is a perfect replica of the larger makes. It is only in stature that it is dwarfed, however, as its "voice" is as loud and as perfect in tone as that of the larger members of the family. The management of the store at which this particular musical instrument may be seen will be glad to demonstrate it to visitors.

Vacuum Cleaner

The Vacuum cleaner is undoubtedly the most useful mechanical servant of the modern housekeeper. Over 500,000 women are today using this particular brand of cleaner daily, subjecting it to the most grueling tests of continuous service. It is known throughout the world as the Grand Prize cleaner because it has won more gold medals than any other brand. Its steel, cloth and nickel parts may be plainly seen but it is the invisible air, formed into a powerful suction by the electric motor, that cleans every particle of dust from the carpet.

Men's Hat

A combination of silk, leather and furry substance has been worked in to a pleasing article of headware, one that will look well on any man's head and prelate him a gentleman of taste. This particular brand of hat comes in light gray, dark gray and other colors. This brand of hat should be easy to find, it being one of the best-selling makes and the most widely advertised brands of men's hats.

Beautiful Glove Silk Hose

Every woman loves silk hose and since their first advent on the market, glove silk hose have been a reigning favorite. A certain store in Middlesboro carries a beautiful line of glove silk hose in all popular colors, each with colored top so that lady may have no difficulty in determining which are mates. To the person who first locates these hose a liberal discount will be given.

Automatic Electric Iron

It would seem that science would some time cease in her endless train of inventions which each year appear upon the market to lighten the housewife's work. Now appears the automatic electric iron, an insurance in itself against fire. The only complaint ever heard from the electric iron is that one coming occasionally from some person who has left it turned on, returning just in time to save the house from fire—or, sometimes, too late. This iron automatically shuts off when the iron reaches the burning stage and so prevents fire. It may be had at the store of one of our advertisers, and a liberal discount awaits the one who first finds it.

Table Stove

This small electric table stove takes up no more room than an ordinary dish, yet it cooks, bakes, fries and, in fact, does almost anything that a large stove can do.
